★ Success Story ★

From the onset, I thought giving $50 to charity was a fine idea rather than the usual first-visit fees -- and unselfish.

After mastering the fact you are not an assembly line operation but highly trained professionals -- busy, fast, and accurate, I opted for one implant and not the three recommended. They are expensive---- I have no dental insurance.

The procedure went well, the follow-up was excellent including recommending a dentist to "to administer the fitting touches" on my existing lower plate.

Receiving the flowers was a nice touch after the initial surgery, and then later a coffee gift card because I had to wait on several visits. I understood.

Would I recommend you? -- you betcha!! Have already told several people.

I am a happy, satisfied patient.
