I had my teeth out when I was nineteen and had dentures until I was sixty six. I should have had implants many years ago. These new dentures, secured by the lower implants, are excellent, and allow a much more secure chewing and talking atmosphere.

I researched the implant world for several years, and finally decided to trust my very low profile ridge to Lee Sheldon. I've been happy with the results and trust that the future now looks much brighter than the past, regarding personal appearance and comfort.
